

Pim van Zundert

Owner of MakingTomorrow | Specialized in escape rooms for educational purposes | The Netherlands

During the past few years, Pim van Zundert created educational content for primary school students, teachers and companies. He also developed workshops and courses using modern media and gamification for educational purpose.

He is currently a primary teacher (for 11 years) and teaches for 3,5 years on De Borne primary school, Tilburg. Where he is using gamification and modern media to motivate and inspire his students. By doing this he is learning his students the 21st century Skills and makes education more meaningful and tries to develop different talents.